

Training the next generation of global administrators

Contact Information

Mengzhong Zhang, PhD
Associate Professor and Director
617.287.3937
Mengzhong.Zhang@umb.edu

Aroon Manoharan, Ph.D.
Associate Professor and
Co-Director
617.287.5935
Aroon.Manoharan@umb.edu

Rose Nyaondo
Graduate Assistant

Email: public.affairs@umb.edu
www: globaladmin.umb.edu

Global Comparative Public Administration MPA (online option)

Department of Public Policy and Public Affairs

JOHN W. MCCORMACK GRADUATE SCHOOL
OF POLICY AND GLOBAL STUDIES

A CALL FOR GLOBAL PUBLIC SERVICE

Globalization and the increasing complexities of today's interconnected world challenge the traditional functions and boundaries of government. This new program prepares students for careers in state, national, and international organizations, and provides innovative strategies for improving public and nonprofit institutions worldwide.

Our unique interdisciplinary approach empowers students to:

Understand the complex interdependent networks of nation-states and supranational organizations.

Develop the critical skills needed to lead and manage national and international organizations, drawing on faculty expertise in global best practices

Lead to resolve global inequities through understanding and appreciating the critical role of local communities

Faculty and Expertise

Michael J. Ahn

PhD, Syracuse University

E-government, international comparative public administration, public administration education

Christine Thurlow Brenner

PhD, University of Texas at Arlington

Immigration, urban affairs, global comparative public administration, borderlands, budgeting

Ann Bookman

PhD, Harvard University

Work and family issues, aging/intergenerational care, hunger/food security

Connie S. Chan

PhD, Boston University

Ethics and public policy, health policy, mental health policy

Susan R. Crandall

PhD, University of Washington

Workforce and employment policies, gender equity in workforce

Michael Johnson

PhD, Northwestern University

Operations research/management, housing and community development, GIS, service delivery

Darren Kew

PhD, Tufts University

International relations, cross-cultural conflict resolution

Heather MacIndoe

PhD, University of Chicago

NGOs, organization theory, public and private funding for social services, philanthropy

Aroon Manoharan

PhD, Rutgers University-Newark

E-Government, global comparative public administration, performance measurement, strategic planning,

Edward Miller

PhD, University of Michigan

Aging, Long-term Care, Telemedicine, e-health, Intergov Relations, Program Eval, Medicaid

Pamela Nadash

PhD, Columbia University

Long term care, comparative health policy, consumer choice, integrated care models

Amit Patel

PhD, George Mason University

Urban poverty, health disparities, statistical and simulation methods, GIS

Frank Porcell

PhD, Carnegie-Mellon University

Quantitative methods, nursing home outcome/quality, elder disability risks

Amy Smith

PhD, SUNY Albany

Public management, org theory/behavior, social networks impacts on regulatory settings

Mark Warren

PhD, Harvard University

Community organizing (U.S. and comparative), education policy, urban issues, community-engaged scholarship, qualitative methods

Eben Weitzman

PhD, Columbia University

Organizational Conflict, Mediation, Computer-aided Data Analysis in Qualitative Research

Christian Weller

PhD, University of Massachusetts Amherst

International economic development, wealth inequality, financial institutions

Mengzhong Zhang

PhD, Rutgers University-Newark

Comparative administration reforms, performance measurement, public budgeting

Email: public.affairs@umb.edu Phone: 617.287. 6938

www.globaladmin.umb.edu